

HR Consultant

Milton Keynes • c.£30,000

Scania has long been acknowledged as one of the UK's leading suppliers of heavy trucks, buses and coaches. We are proud of our dedication to our customers, focus on quality and commitment to recognising and developing the talents of our people. We are looking for a talented HR generalist to oversee our rewards and benefits provision.

Eager to expand your HR career, this role gives you the opportunity to develop your reward and recognition skills, you will be part of the HR team supporting 1,600 employees around the UK. In your quest to establish our benefits package as a key attraction and retention tool, you'll enjoy a broad remit. Your project work will range from establishing core processes for reward and benefits administration, policy review and implementation, to full project management of new initiatives and contributing to future planning. Leading a small team and working with external providers, you will build on your initial knowledge of benefits, pensions and payroll.

An accomplished generalist HR professional, you will have an interest in reward and recognition. Degree educated, numerate and with a natural flair for planning and leading projects, your eye for detail and an inquisitive mind make you a great problem solver who relishes a challenge, working well on your own initiative. Your enthusiasm and determination will suit the fast paced environment as you set off on the next stage of your HR career.

To apply, please send your curriculum vitae with details of your current package to Brenda Rowlands at HRi, cv@hri.co.uk

SCANIA

www.scania.co.uk

HR
HUMAN RESOURCES
INTERNATIONAL